Taking steps towards an active lifestyle

Regular moderate exercise can have major benefits to your health and improve your quality of life. Research has shown that your health improves when you exercise and burn more than 2,000 calories a week. On average you'll burn around 60% of your calories without thinking about it, by walking these routes every day you can easily burn off the rest of the calories.

Why not make it part of your day – for example, by getting off the bus a stop earlier, going for a lunchtime stroll or walking into Herne Bay – not only will you burn calories, but you will save money on travelling and be helping the environment too.

Useful advice

- Speak with your doctor if you have any medical issues before you start.
- Adults should aim to do moderate exercise for a minimum of 30 minutes a day, five days a week
- Children should aim to do moderate exercise for a minimum of one hour a day.
- Moderate exercise makes you breathe slightly deeper and harder. You should feel slightly warmer and be able to talk without panting.
- Exercise should not make you feel uncomfortable or lead to an injury.
- Be prepared – take some water, wear comfortable shoes and suitable clothing.
